1. "Islam is one of the (1) monotheistic religions in the world; it has a structured (2) doctrine, and (3) a book." Comment on the three major points of this statement.
2. "Islam is a historical event; that is, it was born in time and space. Its early history that comprises Jahiliyya, Sira and Rashidun, cannot be ignored or neglected in Islamic studies, in general, and in Islamic Theology in particular". Argue over this assertion.
3. The articles of Islamic creed are the foundation of both individual and collective Muslim faith. Discuss their nature as well as content.
4. What a Muslim should do is explicitly contained in the pillars of Islam. Why do you think that they are ways through which Muslim faith is put into practice
5. "Muhammad is not at all the author of the Qur'an". Reflect on this declaration
